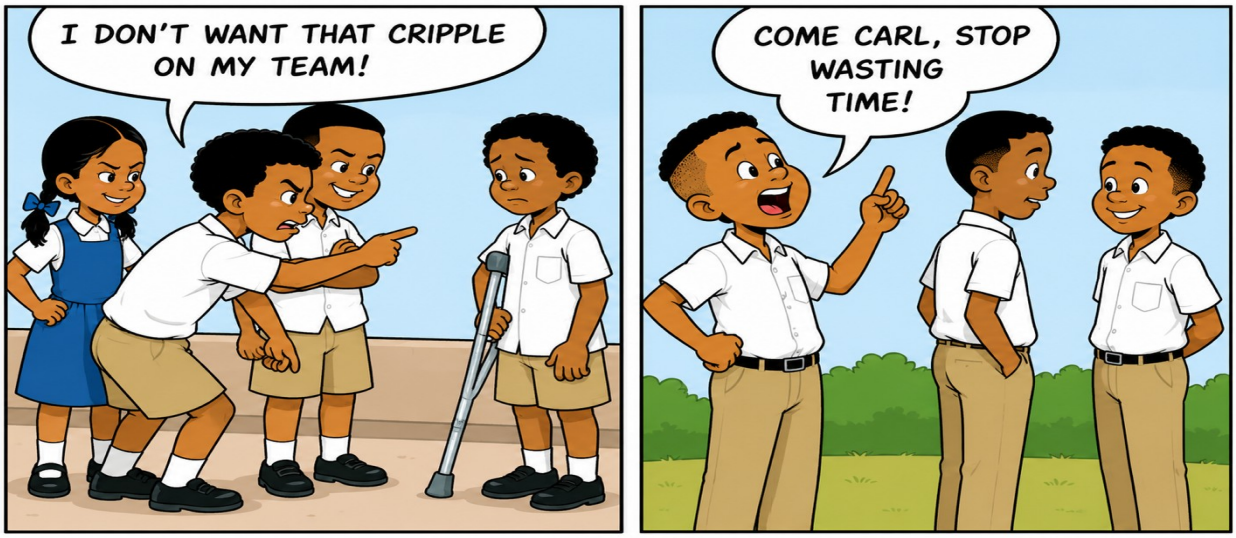
Lesson 13: I Did Not Mean it!

Behaviour which makes people sad and unhappy or makes them feel that they are not important is negative behaviour. Sometimes negative behaviour causes conflict.

Look at the following situations and respond to the questions:



How would you feel if you were Grace?

_____

_____

What would have been a kind thing for Paul to have done instead?

_____

_____

What could Toni have done or said that would have been kind?

_____

_____

Does this happen in your class? How can you change this?

_____

_____

Choose a partner and act out the following situations:

1. How you would treat a new student in your class;
2. You and your friend have quarreled and have not been talking to each other. You want to apologize for some unkind and negative things you said to your friend and become friends again.

As a peacemaker I learned
